THE LEMIEUX ACT

Delegate Sherman Arraigns Lemieux Act as Complete Failure, as Far as Unions are Concerned

(Montreal Daily Star.)

Halifax, N. S., September 29.—The Lemieux Trades and Disputes Act was characterized as a disastrous measure by delegate Sherman at the session of the Trades and Labor Congress at Canada. Consideration of the bill was taken up shortly before noon, the early morning having been given up to hearing reports of organizers.

Delegate Sherman said he had had considerable experience with the measure and well knew the reason the act was brought into existence. He said the miners of British Columbia had been on strike for about nine months and just as they were on the point of winning, the Dominion government interfered. Mr. King was hurried out to the western country to mix matters up.

When the Lemieux bill was first drafted it was aimed exclusively at miners, but later the government decided to attack the railway organizations.

The law was aimed at coal miners and railway organizations because the people must have coal and railways, and the idea of the government, he said, was to kill the organizations and then the law would have accomplished its end.

To kill the Miners' Union the bill was rushed through parliament at a furious rate but Mr. Lemieux and his advisers missed their mark as the magistrates in the west had no power to enforce the act and the miners would and could strike whenever it was impossible to make such agreement with their employers. In other words, the act was ineffective and should be abolished. The miners, he said, were now next to the game that was played with them and the government would get its answer on October 20th.

The Canadian government, he declared, cannot compel the miners to work for employers with whom they have no quarrel.

He found out the game Mr. Lemieux and his partisans were playing and instead of going on strike it may be remembered "resigned" and went on a sailing excursion. No strike was declared and the object of the bill was defeated. Delegate Sherman here declared that there was too much political cast about the act. He had acted on eleven boards and it was only the plain truth to say that the chairman can not render a decision until he has communicated with the Labor Department.

All boards upon which he had acted had been complete failures. In some cases agreements had been given to understand that they were legal documents.

Imagine their surprise, said he, when they found out the agreement were not worth the paper they were written on. Actions for damages were then instituted, but no redress could be obtained in the courts owing to the fact that the magistrates had no machinery for enforcing of the law. The miners of British Columbia were then left in a deplorable condition as the result of the Lemieux law.

Mr. Sherman said the law did not give the unions any rights. In some cases investigation did some good. He claimed it was a farce to say the measure was passed in the interests of the third party, the public.

The speaker declared that the public was interested in cheap coal and cheap transportation and were, as a rule, not much interested in labor disputes.

FOR SALE—A cottage beautifully situated, comfortable and located in the residential portion of Coleman. A good cash proposition or easy terms will be given. S. Charles Brooks, "The Cotton Woods," Brook street, Merritt, Victoria, B.C.

Alex. Cameron, Coleman's popular jeweler, has let the contract for an addition to his block to T. W. Davies. The addition will be 12½ by 60 feet. The new place is necessary to accommodate the stock of his tenants, Messrs. Ouimette, Wright & Co. Since coming to Coleman they have increased their trade and enlarged their stock to such an extent that the present store will not contain their stock, the counters as well as the shelves being over loaded. When the bill is erected in the new part an arch of steel will be present and the new addition is in fact, will not be too large to accommodate their ever-increasing trade. The building will be started at once, and it is expected will be ready for the fall and winter business.

HERRON A WINNER

Immense Success in Northern Campaign. Invites Oliver on the Platform.

Wherever John Herron has gone in the northern country he has gained votes. Always Conservative as the district from Calgary south to Clareholms has been, it is more so now than ever. Mr. Herron's meetings in the country districts have been attended by numbers of farmers, eager to hear what he had to say, and ready to support him after they had heard.

In only one place did his opponent, A. B. Macdonald, meet him at Highlands, and that was a victory for Mr. Herron.

If the people of the Pincher Creek and Pass districts do their duty, Mr. Herron will be returned by at least 1,000 majority.

The northern trip will be finished about October 7th, and Mr. Herron will be in the Pass almost immediately after. If Hon. Mr. Oliver is coming to speak in this riding, Mr. Herron asks nothing better than to meet him on the platform. An invitation is hereby extended to Mr. Oliver to be present at any meeting of Mr. Herron's. He will be given full time to explain and excuse the conduct of the government.

SEES DEFEAT AHEAD
Montreal, Sept. 30.—"I have to tell you, gentlemen, that this internal strife in the Liberal party must cease, for if the opposition carries more than ten seats in the province of Quebec the Laurier government will be defeated. These words were uttered by Hon. L. P. Brodeur at the Liberal convention in Soulanges county as a warning."

There were three aspirants for the nomination and on the first ballot Dr. Bourbonnais, the last member, got 84 votes out of 92, the remaining votes being divided between Dr. Daugh and Mr. Charrand. Then Dr. Bourbonnais declared that he had the majority on the first ballot and would stand in parliament in any event. At this juncture Mr. Brodeur arose and called for harmony and peace in the above words that the outlook for the Liberal party was exceedingly grave.

Harvey Thompson late of Hillcrest, who was arrested in the employ of the Crow's Nest Flour & Flour Store, was arrested on Thursday, October 1st, accused of the robbery of the safe of his late employer from which about $500 was taken on September 20th. His preliminary hearing took place at Frank last Friday, and he was committed for trial at Macleod.

COLEMAN CONSERVATIVES ORGANIZE
Last night the Conservatives of Coleman met in their committee rooms in the Pacific hotel and organized for the campaign. The meeting was well attended and all present were very enthusiastic and ready for the fight. If present appearances count for anything John Herron will have a big majority in Coleman. Another meeting will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock to which all supporters of the Conservative party and clean government are invited. Mr. A. L. Blais was elected president, Mr. Morrison vice-president and Mr. B. M. Stitt secretary-treasurer.

LIBERALS ON THE RUN
Ottawa, Sept. 30.—At a hurried conference held in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's office this morning it was decided to retire A. W. Fraser and Dr. Chertier, Liberal candidates, and their places to be taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hal McGivern a well known corporation lawyer. The change is made with a hope of turning the tide in favor of the Liberals. It is not thought that even Sir Wilfrid can stem the tide.

A DRAMA OF WONDERFUL INTENT
Most strikingly effective of all religious dramas ever presented in "The Holy City," Clarence Bennett's powerful and interesting play picture, with vivid strength and masterly power. The scenes and incidents leading up to the betrayal of the Master by Judas. The dance of Salome, the daughter of Herodias, before King Herod is shown as is her successful plea for the head of the great preacher. After John's death, events move with great rapidity, and the plotting and scheming of "the high priest and the Pharisees with Herod are depicted as well as the giving of the thirty pieces of silver to Judas who promises to betray Jesus, into the hands of his enemies. The presence of Jesus, is, of course, only suggested, but so cleverly is this done that the spectators carry back to the very heart of the drama, the sublime move with great rapidity, and the plotting and scheming of "the high priest and the Pharisees with Herod are depicted as well as the giving of the thirty pieces of silver to Judas who promises to betray Jesus, into the hands of his enemies. ADJUSTING THE WAIST TAILORED

THE smartness of the new tailored waists depends entirely upon their proper adjustment. No matter how well cut the lines, how broad the shoulder effect, how carefully the pleats are laid, how the colors harmonize with the skirt worn, all will count for naught unless the waist is put on properly.

To put on the smart waist of the moment properly requires not only the right kind of tape, but the right kind of pins and an infinite amount of patience as well.

But a waist of this type properly adjusted in the morning, stays anchored so until night, and well repays one for the effort required in the smart and neat time it gives to one's appearance.

To begin with, a linen tape of firm weave and about an inch wide should be drawn snugly around the waist and well pushed down in the back.

The fulness in the back and front of the waist should then be arranged, and the pinning of the waist to the corset commenced.

Safety pins should not be used. They are cumbersome, easily bent and leave unsightly little lumps all around the waist line.

Instead, use the black or white headed belt pins sold in 5-cent papers.

After the fulness is properly arranged place one of these pins directly in the middle of the back, pinning the end of the waist as closely as possible to the end of the corset line, yet not so firmly as to interfere with the arm or shoulder movements.

Pins should then be placed on each side of the back near the under-arm seam, being careful not to pull the waist down so closely as to interfere with the free movement of the arms.

Pins should also be placed in each side of the front of the shirtwaist holding the fulness in the proper place, and a pin pointing toward the waist at the point where the tape is knotted.

The tape ends must be pinned down neatly so as to prevent their rolling about the front of the skirt and forming wrinkles.

The skirt should then be put on and pinned down to the shirtwaist in front and the belt and buckle carefully adjusted.

When putting on these tailored waists do not be afraid to use plenty of pins. It is upon their liberal use that the successful adjustment of the waist depends.

A young lady who was recently complimented upon the neat, trim appearance of her shirtwaist, openly confessed that she had used seventeen pins and fifteen minutes of time to secure the result she had obtained.

Patience and perseverance are what is most needed if one would appear smartly dressed in the new tailored waists.

Troubles of Gas Cooking

FOR the woman whose troubles arise from the odor of the gas while preparing meals the remedy lies in having a small pipe between the range and the chimney to carry off the gases.

A large bowl of water placed near will also help prevent the odor.

The smell of gas when a rubber tube is used, no leak being apparent, is usually caused by the tube itself having become saturated with gas.

New tubing is the only remedy.

The lighting of a burner is very simple if understood. Turn on the gas for six seconds before applying the match. This permits the gas to escape from the pipe and makes the burner show a clear blue flame from the first.

If a white flame appears on the first lighting, turn off the gas immediately and try again. The dull roaring sound means the gas flame has leaped back inside the supply pipe.

When having a gas range put in be sure to see that the supply pipe is large enough to allow sufficient gas to enable all the burners to be used at one time. This is very necessary. It is an annoying discovery that you can't boil two kettles when the oven is in use.

See also that the oven is large and commodious, and that there is plenty of room on top for boiling and frying. It is poor economy to use a gas range that is too small. On the other hand, can't have it too large.

Pinning Down the Tape Ends

Uses for an Old Sheet

THERE are a number of ways in which every scrap of an old sheet may be utilized if one will give the subject thought.

First, there are very few housekeepers ignorant of the fact that if the sides are torn together and the sheet cut through the center it will be given a new lease of life.

Twill sheets, by reason of their softness, combined with their substantial weave, make excellent polishing cloths, as well as cloths for the floor and dishes, strong dusters, and, folded, good undercovers for ironing boards, supposing a blanket is not available for the purpose.

Old cotton sheets make very good hags for inclosing gowns and coats in the wardrobe, one large sheet being sufficient for two-wardrobe bags. An old sheet will end up these covered slips for use on the pillows over the ticking.

A sheet that is much worn and considered practically useless may be torn into strips about fourteen inches wide, and then sewn around the edges of the mattress and comfortable to protect them from soil.

Another plan is to take the best parts for making sheets for coats and crabs, where there are children, reserving the very thin portions that have been cut away for use as soft fluffers, or as a lining when only a reinforcement is all that is necessary.

prolonging the life of a half-worn garment for which an old lining is even better than a new.

Constant handling of the mattress and comfortable is apt to soil them around the edges, which can readily be proved by the grime which collects on these strips.

A large apron entire for covering the skirt to be used for bed-making can be made from half a discarded sheet. Muslin bought for this purpose would be rather expensive, yet the old material will answer equally well.

Very soft old sheets may be cut in pieces, each, and devoted to baby's wear, while small soft bits may be given children for schoolroom use.

Wider pieces should be saved for rolling up starched collars or small articles when waiting to be ironed.

In the sickroom there is no end to the possibilities of an old sheet. One-half laid across the bed under the patient will very often save washing a large sheet. Small pieces may be substituted for a handkerchief and then burned. Small scraps will be helpful in rubbing out medicine glasses. In infectious cases an old sheet may be dipped in a disinfectant and hung outside the door of a sickroom.

On sweeping days there is a need for old sheets for covering the furniture. Smaller pieces may be slipped over the finger pillows, or it may be cut down in glass and fine dusts, but as linen wears well and keeps its color to the last thread many very pretty pieces of decorative work may be evolved from it.

An oblong piece, hemstitched all the way around, then embroidered, will make a fresh coat cover for baby's carriage. Small squares, red together with inscription and lace, will make a bureau scarf. Two pieces a foot square, put together in book fashion, form outer covers for an embroidered sashel case.

Smaller squares can be given little fingers to practice plain and fancy sewing.

Tray cloths and serving cloths of linen are dainty, and simple burning and other very narrow borders are within the skill of any person who knows how to use a needle, while clever fingers can convert these remnants into items that will not in the slightest suggest their relation to an old sheet.

Dishes for Casserole Dainties

In Glazed Ware

ATTRACTION in their variety of form and colorings are the new casserole dishes. They are shown worked out in quaint shapes in glazed ware, in the Mexican pottery and in enamel.

Many of them are reproductions of the high-priced German utensils of this sort so universally used abroad.

All are acid proof lined and it is claimed they will not crack or scale off, and will retain nothing to taint or discolor the food.

Delicacies cooked in these dainty little dishes retain all their juices and flavors and do not easily scorch or burn.

For sending these tempting little dishes to the table are holders of silver or copper, still further enhancing their attractiveness.

Quaint birds, animals, flowers and leaves, colored in natural tones, are frequently used in the handles.

Altogether they are most attractive table accessories, and would make delightful holiday gifts for the home woman.

Business Girl's "Ts"

IMUST not forget that all business is a bit brutal and that I did not go into business to be helped or lifted gently over the hard, rough places. I am paid to make rough places smooth for my employer. If I want help and sympathy, I should go to a home for the infirmed, if they take me in.

One is not engaged because she may happen to need money, but because her employer needs her service.

If I am competent to do the work, it is not necessary for me to ask influential friends to secure an opening for me.

It is much better to start out in a small way and gradually rise than begin at something better when only half-trained and badly equipped.

Mice and Bird Seed

I am very fond of the ragh millet and hemp that partly compose the usual canary and other bird seeds. Unless the seed is kept in a tin box, well sealed against the small invaders, they will find and devour, or at least utterly spoil, your store. Worse still, if they are attracted to the neighborhood of the bird cage they will even climb upon it and endeavor to steal from the seed cup itself. Many birds are frightened to death by this, and their owners have never known why they were found dead the next morning.

When Buying Gloves

WHEN buying gloves, the best plan is to test the kid by stretching it. Take the side seams between the thumb and fingers and pull.

If the kid is soft and pliable, the pores small, even and not especially noticeable and the glove immediately taken on its original shape, it gives evidence of not only being elastic, and therefore full of new life, but of being of a fairly good quality.

The heavy walking glove can be tried in the same way, but a sure test as any is in smelling them, and there is rather a fragrant odor, like that of Russian leather, they too, should be all right.

The stitching in the seams should be carefully examined to see that it is perfect and that there are none sewed so close to the edge that they will tear out.

If well made they should have a seam between each of the fingers.

THE ISSUE

The deplorable state of political affairs existing in Canada to-day have become so grave that the issue before the people in the present campaign has divided down to one of graft vs. no graft, dishonesty vs. honesty. Shall the politicians or the people rule? Sir Wilfrid Laurier is surrounded by a lot of the most unscrupulous politicians that ever rallied to the side of any premier in the history of Canada. We, of course, admit that crookedness did exist before in the government of Canada under the rule of both parties, but the enormity of the steals and frauds under the Liberals of to-day can find no parallel in any civilized country on the face of the earth. We are also willing to admit that Sir Wilfrid Laurier did give us up-to-date, good government during his first and part of his second term in office, but what we received then in the way of honest administration has been doubly undone by the fearful corruption, bribery, thieving and utter disregard for the welfare of the people during the past six years. What are we going to do about it? It is for the good people of Canada to say by their votes on the 20th of October whether Sir Wilfrid and his crowd of highway men will be allowed to "finish their work" or whether they will, by their vote, pronounce the death sentence of a party which has heaped disgrace upon our fair Dominion.

GIVEN THE LIE

The Frank Paper, in its last issue, harps away about John Herron in the usual way but says nothing, simply nothing. We have pointed out that the Liberal workers approached Chow Sam of Macleod, on behalf of the defeated candidate McKenzie, offering to purchase through him the votes of his people. We have also drawn attention to the fact that the only Chinamen naturalized in the Pass were given certificates of good character by Captain Beebe, Liberal booster of Blairmore, and we will add just one more on proof to shock our readers that the Frank Paper is unreluctant in its statements. In the list of Chinese naturalized we find the name of Joe Wong as being made a citizen of Canada by A. C. Beach, Frank, on November 8th, 1904. We took the trouble to look into this particular case up and what do we find? We find in the first place that Mr. Beach received his appointment as justice of the peace from the Alberta government, in February, 1905; that the province of Alberta or its government were not in existence at the time of the last federal elections; that Joe Wong was not a Canadian citizen until a year after the election of John Herron, and incidentally, that the Frank Paper made a statement for the purpose of deceiving the people, which was absolutely untrue.

Now, with regard to closed leases the Frank Paper says that Mr. Macdonald is not interested in any such lease. Mr. Macdonald, the Liberal candidate, says that his company DID receive, and he is interested in a closed lease for 1,300 acres granted since 1904. Mr. Macdonald made this statement in a public speech at Pincher Creek. Who shall we believe? The Frank Paper, or the Liberal candidate?

TO FINISH HIS WORK

When a strong man is sinking gradually but surely from the throne of power. When such a one finds that through his own misfortune or the fault of others the reins of government are slipping from his grasp, it is natural for such a one to endeavor to bolster up his falling cause by a personal appeal to the people. And so the people of Canada have now, to-day, before them, the piteous spectacle of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, bereft of other argument in favor of his retaining power, appealing to the electorate to return his party to power to enable him to finish his work. Blasphemous only he compares himself to that forerunner of our Lord, who asked God "to let him depart in peace, for his eyes had seen," surely not the salvation of Canada by Grit government.

Let Laurier finish his work. That is the slogan of the Grits, despairing of any other manner of carrying Canada than through the sentimental channel. The record of the party headed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the history of Canada, is not such as to encourage the people of this Dominion towards voting another term in which Laurier may finish his work.

If the people of the west wish to see their natural heritage disposed of to relations of cabinet ministers and grafters. If the people of the west desire to see such scandals as the Blairmore townsite deal, the Blaine more cemetery deal, the Glengarry ranch lease, the Saskatchewan Valley land deal, and other thefts of the people's lands put through, then "Let Laurier Finish His Work."

If the people of Alberta wish to see direct taxation imposed on them as a result of the niggardly terms on which this province was admitted to confederation, while hundreds of Grit politicians are becoming millionaires at the expense of the public, then "Let Laurier Finish His Work."

If the people of Canada wish to see the whole lumber trade pass into the hands of a set of selfish politicians, using their place in the councils of the country to enrich their private purses. If the settlers of the west wish to pay double and treble the prices that ought to be paid for the building of their homes and dwellings, then "Let Laurier Finish His Work."

If the people of this Dominion wish to see the favorite manufacturers who support the Liberal party enriched at the expense of the consumer and farmer, then "Let Laurier Finish His Work."

If the people of the west wish to see western Canada over-run by the Chinese and Japanese under the pretence of a treaty which does not exist. If the Canadian people wish to see the honest white working man ousted from all chance of making an honest living, then "Let Laurier Finish His Work."

If the people of Canada wish to see expenditure increased to the breaking point; a tariff for revenue only expanded into a tariff for the burdening of the consumer; this fair Canada of ours bankrupt and at the mercy of a party of ghosts before whom the worst Tammy men would shrink, then "Let Laurier Finish His Work."

On the other hand, let all those men who are in favor of clean government, of civil service reform, of abolition of graft and waste in the government departments, of low taxation, of the preserving of the heritage of the west, mines, timber and lands for the people of the west, VOTE FOR JOHN HERRON AND LET BORDEN COMMENCE HIS WORK.

A ROTTEN PRESS

So that there shall be no doubt in the minds of any, it may be well to nail the true character of the Macleod "Chronicle," so that all who run, may read. This journalistic chronic recently executed a most remarkable flop. Retiring with fervent protestations of admiration for John Herron and the principles he stood for, it awoke in its next issue to the realization that the same John Herron was an indigo-dyed villain of the most devilish description, who hadn't any principles fit to refer to in decent society of course. The explanation of this sudden change of heart is very simple. The man Livingston, the nominal editor, is an absolute nonentity. The "Chronicle" itself, is a bastard sort of progeny of the old Macleod "Gazette"—inhabits the "Gazette's" old home, uses the same old type, etc., but has been tidied up with some second hand machinery. It reminds one of a three volume novel, for its building is owned by one, its type is owned by another, while its machinery is the property of yet another. And yet not three but one, mortgaged up to the hilt and tied up into horrid knots, there is where the fine Blairmore hand of Malcolm MacKenzie got in its final work. Bebind, that the editorial offices are now situated within the precincts (ha! nice word, that) of Messrs MacKenzie & McDonald's law office, while Mr. Jack McDonald, the junior member of the firm, a comparatively recent importation from Ontario, and a ready-to-wear Liberal partizan of the most rabid type, let what man "was right."

But what about the "Advance"? That great exponent of Liberalism which for the last ten years has been scourging a long-suffering public with such pearls of phraseology as: "Some horses have more sense than their owners." "Every vote that is polled for the Socialist candidate will be those of dissatisfied Conservatives." "However, a portion of second avenue and main street are the homes of all our leading business blocks." To take a few examples from its issue of September 22nd, it looks very much as though the honest and high-minded editors of that great Liberal champion are mortally afraid they are going to be overlooked, and that there won't be any of A. B.'s money going their way. This is what they say about it anyway: "Unless the INEVITABLE happens we live in hopes of taking a very prominent stand in this elections." "But—"

From the amount of attention being devoted by the Liberal press to the fact of a number of Chinese having been naturalized by Conservative agents prior to the last election, one would imagine that the Liberal party would scorn such tactics. That such was not the case, anyone who is sufficiently interested can satisfy himself by searching the records in Macleod. He will find that a number of Chinese were also naturalized by Liberal agents. He will find, further, that a most remarkable number of foreigners, chiefly Italians, were also naturalized by Liberal agents, just about that time; and while there may be no connection, still it is worth noting that the townsite of Blairmore was obtained by Mr. MacKenzie (the defeated Liberal candidate at election) from an Italian. However, we do not suppose that Mr. MacKenzie had any particular knowledge of these acts of his agents any more than Mr. Herron had. "They just happened."

It would be very much more to the point if, instead of frothing about acts performed in the heat of conflict, the Liberal newspapers would accord some slight measure of appreciation for the results obtained by Mr. John Herron in connection with the recent pre-emption act. If they had any real regard for this portion of Alberta they would do so, too, irrespective of their political opinion. For, note this fact, you farmers of the Macleod constituency, that if it had not been for Mr. John Herron and a few other Conservative members, not one of you would have got the pre-emption you recently secured. The area defined in the original bill as brought down by the minister of the interior, DID NOT COME WEST OF RANGE 20 (some distance east of Lethbridge) and it was Mr. John Herron who was mainly instrumental in getting that area advanced westward as far as the C. & E. railway. He did his utmost to have it extended to the mountains, but was unsuccessful.

AN AMAZING CONTRAST

In view of the strenuous efforts which were made by the government to prevent the opposition getting at the truth in regard to the timber scandal and the manner in which the blocker's brigade backed by Laurier and his cabinet obstructed in every possible manner all probing in the public accounts committee it is interesting to contrast the way in which the Conservatives aided the opposition at the time of the McGowery scandal. At the close of the inquiry in 1901 Mr. Tarte, who had preferred the charges, and prosecuted them before the committee, made this statement in the house (Hansard, 1901, page 5800):

"I must say this much to the credit of the minister of justice, (Sir John Thompson). From the moment that the minister of justice perceived that I had a case he sent to me the two counsel for his administration, Messrs. Henry and Oeler. They came to me and my lawyer and they said: 'It is better not to say publicly that we will work together as much as we can, but we have been authorized to come to you.' I asked them 'by whom are you authorized?' They told me that they had been authorized by Sir John Thompson. I asked them, 'are you going to take your orders from the minister of justice or from Sir Hector Langevin?' Oeler and Henry said, 'we are prepared to work with you and find out the truth as much as we can.' I say that they have helped me and my lawyer, Mr. Geoffrion, will tell you the same thing. They have helped me as much as their delicate position and the delicate position of the minister of justice allowed them to do. I think, sir, it is well that we should know and that the world should know, that when a grave and momentous question like this is thrown upon parliament, the representative of justice is prepared to stand by his duty, however delicate and difficult may be the position in which he is placed."

WHY THEY LIKE LAURIER

Toronto Mail and Empire: The New York Sun joins in the appeal to "let Laurier finish his work." The Canadian premier is entitled to some sympathy and aid from that side of the border, for he has done more to promote United States interests in this country than any other human agency. Uncle Sam has doubled his exports to Canada as a result of Laurier's tinkering with the tariff. It is to the Laurier administration the United States is indebted for the slice of territory gained in the Alaska boundary settlement. It is by the same administration our neighbors are encouraged to persist in their efforts for the blocking of our Niagara power development.

GEORGE TAYLOR'S FORECAST

Ottawa, September 29.—Geo. Taylor, chief Conservative whip, who is in the city, is confident that Mr. R. L. Borden will have a majority of 40 seats in the next House. He estimates that the opposition will carry 19 seats in Quebec, 9 in Ontario, 9 in New Brunswick, 9 in Nova Scotia, 4 in Prince Edward Island, 3 in Manitoba, 3 in Alberta and Saskatchewan combined, 6 in British Columbia and 1 in the Yukon.

A CAMPAIGN OF LIES

Realizing the vanity of the endeavor to defeat Honest John Herron on the square, the hireling Grit press of the Macleod electoral district has taken up the last weapon of the defeated and anguished, that of LIES. The popular movement throughout the riding has been so general, so determined in favor of an honest man and an honest party, that the reptile press of southern Alberta, led, as is only fit by the personal organ of Blairmore Townsite McKenzie, and followed at decent or indecent intervals by the rest of the Liberal press in the riding have attempted to lessen the defeat of A. B. Macdonald by casting a personal slur on the Conservative candidate, and publishing deliberate lies about him.

The desperate nature of the Grit campaign is evident when the members of that party proceed to such rash measures. Of some it is only to be expected. No one expects decency in political life from the man who procured the Blairmore townsite on what was pronounced by the judge who took the evidence, "false affidavits."

But of others, such for instance as the Frank Paper, honestly might be expected. Take that Chinese vote. Everyone knows that Captain Beebe of Blairmore, naturalized five Chinamen to vote for McKenzie. The challenge of the Miner to refute the statement that a Liberal agent, working for McKenzie, offered a Chinese boss in Macleod $500 to work for McKenzie, is still undented and cannot be denied, because the proof is in our hands. At the last moment before the 1904 election the Grit agents in the Pass attempted to circulate this rumor about the Conservatives and the Chinese, but it was promptly refuted. The men of the Pass viewed the two men and judged rightly in supporting John Herron.

Typical of the slanders circulated by the Chronicle has been that one which declares John Herron has never been a working man and does not work. Does the Chronicle remember the speech of its owner, McKenzie, in the last campaign, when he declared that John Herron was not even a gentleman, he was only a "farmer?" Thank God that Herron is not a gentleman, if McKenzie is one. John Herron was brought up to the trade of a blacksmith and earned his living by the sweat of his brow. Because he has come west and by his intelligence and industry has become prosperous, is that any reason why a working man should not support him? He started on the same plane as every man who uses his hands, and his present position is a credit to him, and an example to every working man in the country.

Another lie is nailed, and this one is an outrage, when the Lethbridge Herald dares to say that John Herron has endeavored to raise religious war cry in this campaign. If John Herron ever said that he asked the vote of one man as a Conservative against any church or any race in Canada the Miner would no longer support him. John Herron has lived for over twenty years among French Canadians and Catholics, and he is honored and respected among them to-day. No better Canadian citizen exists than the French Canadian, and well Herron knows that fact. If anyone will dare to make the statement on the platform that has been made in the press, it will be treated as it deserves.

The Miner would not willingly believe that Mr. Macdonald is a willing party to the campaign of falsehood that is being carried on against Mr. Herron. But since it goes on unchecked, since the limits of decency have been long since reached, it may be that the Miner will be obliged to retaliate in kind. It may not be pleasant to the Liberal candidate or his supporters to show why Mr. Macdonald is opposed to civil service reform. It may not be profitable to rake up the records of Ontario courts as to the dealings of the Liberal candidate in past elections in Ontario. The Miner did not and does not want to bring personalities into question in this campaign. It prefers to allow the best man to win, on his merits. But if the hireling press, the so-called moulders of public opinion that support the Blairmore townsite steal, the Blairmore cemetery steal, and every barefaced piece of robbery perpetrated under the shield of the Liberal party, continue the campaign in the foul manner already started, it will then be for the Miner to use the weapons of the enemy against themselves. And the Miner knows whereof it talks.

Mr. Borden is pledged to give Canada honest government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier prays to be allowed to continue his work of graft and disgrace. Herron for honesty. Macdonald for graft. Take your choice.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS FROM BORDEN'S SPEECH

I do not fear defeat in a clean campaign, but I prefer overwhelming defeat to victory won by improper means.

The record of corruption is so long and so startling that the whole evening might be occupied in enumerating the various scandals brought to light during the past three years.

They practice protection as a matter of political expediency and not of principle; hence the protective element in their tariff is put to party uses, being founded upon no sincere belief.

I have spoken of corruption in administration and expenditure. What about efficiency? What branch of administration has not been mismanaged by the government? What great public undertaking have they not bungled?

It is safe to prophesy that in another five years little will be left of the public domain if the present administration is continued in power. And yet from the subsidized organs the cry goes up that Laurier should be allowed to complete his work.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised purity of administration. He has abandoned the public exchequer to the plundering and pilfering of unscrupulous party friends and has permitted the public domain to become the prey of his strongest partisans.

The whole policy of the government and its followers was to shut off investigations and prevent publicity.
When facts discreditable to the government were elicited the opposition was accused of muck-raking by those who made and profited by the "muck."

The government never dreamed that the civil service commission would undertake any such investigation. Their purpose throughout has been concealment. The condition of the marine department was known to the prime minister long before the report of the civil service commission.

Criminals have been appointed to positions in the public service—men engaged in the most nefarious electoral crimes have been appointed to positions of public trust. No healer in his zeal for party interests need fear that the most outrageous disregard of law and decency would prevent his appointment to public office.

It has been the fashion until recently, although not during the past session, to deride the opposition as weak and inefficient. An opposition which can force great reforms, such as these upon an unwilling government, has every reason to congratulate itself and the party it represents has no cause to fear for its efficiency.

If there has been wrong-doing by Conservatives, I denounce it, I denounce those who committed it or are responsible for it and I declare that they should be punished with the full legal penalties. No man who resorts to corrupt acts in the supposed interest of our party, is a true friend of the party. If we preach purity, and practise corruption, we shall be worthy of all the scorn that can be poured upon us.

How far restitution may be possible
we do not know. If fraud or imposition has been practiced, if the trustees and servants of the people have conspired to plunder the interests they were bound to protect, there must be a remedy for the wrong, and we have pledged ourselves to pursue every legiti-mate means of redress which can be made available in the interests of the people and consistently with the principles of constitutional government.

They undertook the negotiation of a treaty with Japan, procured its ratification by misrepresentation to parliament, deliberately abandoned the Conservative policy of controlling immigration of laborers and artisans from that country, brushed aside the repeated warnings of the British government, handed over to Japan all control of emigration to Canada from that country, and thus precipitated an influx of Japanese laborers which brought about the Vancouver riots.
